

Negotiation Changes Prototype

For corporate event planners, a better negotiated price can still hide concessions and trade-offs.

Understand what changed before deciding.

SITUATION

Savings are only the start.

The revised deal needs context before approval.

After AI negotiation, planners still need to decide whether the revised deal is truly better.

A better price can still introduce trade-offs.

The same proposal can improve one stakeholder metric while worsening another:

- Rates
- Concessions
- Commitments
- Contract terms

So what actually changed?

AI negotiation stays useful because the decision stays human.

1

Savings become explainable.

2

Trade-offs become visible.

3

Review becomes faster and safer.

Stakeholders can approve, renegotiate, or escalate without rereading the full proposal from scratch.
